RIOTERS RELEASE 2 OF 23

More Demands Made By Montana Convicts ... Hostages Facing Possible Death

REINFORCED
A Montana Prison guard mounts a ladder to bolster the armed manpower on the wall.

Deer Lodge, Mont. (P) — Armed convicts demanding better conditions at the Montana State Prison released two hostages but threatened to burn alive 21 others held in riot-torn cellblocks Friday night.

They killed the deputy warden and stabbed a guard when they seized control of the 90-year-old institution late Thursday.

Sixteen guards were among the hostages. The others are convicts termed stool pigeons by their fellows because of their practice of informing to prison officials.

Guard Chris Pletan, 49, and prison sociologist Walter Jones, 24, were freed late Friday.

Pletan, a diabetic, told newsmen "they mean business. They're not fooling."

An uneasy peace fell on the grey sandstone walls and the lighted cellblocks inside as night fell. Armed National Guardsmen and state patrolmen watched from 6 turrets atop the walls, and others patrolled outside the walls.

Quiet Broken

Two incidents broke the quiet.

Two older convicts who are ill were allowed by the rioters to walk from the prison. They joined officers, one of whom quoted one of the convicts as saying "hang tough—it looks like things are going our way in there."

There was no explanation of his remark.

At 10 p.m. (MST), the quiet was shattered by a gunshot. An official said a National Guardsman accidentally discharged his rifle.

The hostages were being held two to a cell in the west cellblock. Jones, after he was freed, said all were nervous, but that they were being cared for properly.

Jones twice acted as a go-between for the rebellious convicts and Warden Floyd Powell.

No Threat

The first time he was ordered to return to the convicts or face the possibility of their killing the other captives. The second time he said "they didn't make any threats."

Pletan, the guard, said the rioters are led by Jerry Myles, a Butte, Mont., burglar with a long record.

He and the warden said the convicts are armed with at least two rifles and about 30 rounds of ammunition, as well as knives and bottles of naphtha, a highly explosive cleaning fluid. Spokesmen for the rioters threatened earlier Friday to drench the hostages with the fluid and turn them into human torches if prison officials use force to break the rebellion.

Warden Powell called up 150 National Guardsmen shortly after the riot broke out late Thursday. At one time, the warden threatened to send them against the cellblock gates to break the convicts' resistance.

Demand

The convicts used a loud-speaker system to voice their demands and make other comments to officials.

They at first demanded that Gov. J. Hugo Aronson come here from the state capital at Helena, 55 miles away. He refused, saying he would meet with convict ring-leaders only after the hostages had been freed unharmed.

The convicts then demanded to meet with out-of-state newsmen.

Prison officials selected 3 and allowed them to meet briefly with the rioters. Among the newsmen was Keith Fuller, Denver bureau chief for the Associated Press.

The 3 said later they agreed not to disclose the substance of their talks "unless and until they (the convicts) released the hostages."

'Terrible'

Through the loudspeaker system, Myles complained that conditions inside the cellblocks "are terrible." He said the convicts are given poor medical care and unsanitary living conditions.

"I was one of the guys over there when Rothe was killed. It was an unfortunate accident for which I might be hanged for (sic)," said Myles.

He referred to deputy warden Theodore Rothe, 38, who was shot to death when the rioting started. Guard William Cox, 41, was stabbed and the warden was captured at the same time.

Both Cox and Powell later escaped with help from a convict armed with a meat cleaver.

26 Dead As Mexican Plane Explodes, Dives

Mexicali, Mexico (P) — A Mexican airliner carrying 26 persons exploded and crashed Friday near the fishing resort of Guaymas on the Gulf of California. All were killed.

Wreckage was scattered in the gulf and along the shore

40 miles north of the fishing resort, 275 miles below the U.S. border.

The airline said all aboard were Mexican citizens.

The twin-engine C46 had taken off before dawn from this border city adjoining Calico, Calif. Two and a half hours later it exploded in air.

A farm worker, Eridito Valasquez, said the plane appeared to be attempting an emergency landing when one engine exploded. He said the wings began to blaze, there was a second explosion and the craft fell to the ground.

Other witnesses reported that bodies were scattered over an area of a mile and a half.

First Stop

The plane's first scheduled stop was Guaymas. Its ultimate destination was Mexico City.

A ground party started by auto to the crash scene near Puerto Kino, a sunny and almost uninhabited lagoon on the Gulf that separates the Mexican mainland from the Baja California peninsula.

Among the dead was Jose Lopes Enrique, general manager of the Tigres Voladores, one of Mexico's 6 largest airlines. He was at the controls, the airline said.

Among the 21 passengers was Kildo Martinez, a popular Mexican bantamweight prize fighter.

The crew of 5 included two stewardesses.

CD Drill Gets Praise From Chief

City-County Civil Defense Director Richard Vestecka had a pat on the back Friday for Lincolnites for their cooperation in "Operation Alert 1959."

Vestecka said he was "very pleased" with the response from businessmen who allowed their help to participate in the practice exercise by evacuating to their cars Friday morning.

All city schools—including the 3 colleges—and most business houses were evacuated after the air raid sirens sounded at 10:35 a.m. A mechanical failure, Vestecka said, kept sirens at Pius X High School and Havelock Elementary School from sounding, but the other 7 sirens were heard.

Take Cover

During the afternoon, however, when the "take cover" signal was sounded all the sirens worked, he said.

Members of the Legislature joined in the evacuation.

Vestecka said the only evacuation from town took place at St. Teresa's School, where 550 students were evacuated from the building and left the school within 10 minutes. A bus and 71 cars were used to drive the students to 40th and Pioneer and then back again.

Vestecka said "ground zero" for the exercise was the 10th St. viaduct. A 10-megaton nuclear bomb hitting there, he said, would have destroyed the city and killed the estimated 15,000 persons who failed to take part in the evacuation.

Most-all of Lancaster County, he said, would be hazardous from either the effect of the blast or fall-out.

Mrs. Harrison Dies At Age 86

Mrs. Edith Harrison, 86, of 1749 So. 17th, died Friday evening in a local hospital.

A resident of Lincoln for the past 6½ years, Mrs. Harrison was the mother of Mrs. Merle Hale and Mrs. A. W. Epp, both of Lincoln. She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and Daughters of the American Revolution.

Other survivors include a son, Charles W. Harrison, of Greeley, Colo.; two sisters, Mrs. C. C. Cartney of Lincoln and Mrs. Nettie Hoover of Davenport, Neb.; 7 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Services are pending at Hodgman-Splain.

Ike Given Victory On Loan Fund

Washington (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee handed President Eisenhower an important victory Friday by voting to double the amount provided by the House for development loans to foreign nations.

The committee recommended 200 million dollars in new funds for the program, called the development loan fund, compared with the President's original request for 225 million and a House-approved figure of 100 million.

The committee vote was 15 to 10.

The House Appropriations Committee had recommended that no additional funds be provided for the program, which is designed to bolster the economies of other free nations.

Irresponsible

The House approved the 100 million figure after Eisenhower branded the committee action as completely irresponsible and said it would damage the free world alliance against communism.

The development loan funds were included in a big catch-all supplemental money bill totaling about $2,857,000,000. The sum is designed to tide over 10 cabinet-directed departments and other federal agencies until the end of the current fiscal year June 30.

The bill now goes to the full Senate. If the chamber goes along with the committee, a House and Senate conference Committee will have to work out a compromise.

Teenagers Get Advice Direct From 'Abby'

By Betty Person
"Dear Abby" doled out advice in person Friday to some 80 Lincoln teenagers who questioned her for an hour on problems close to their hearts at a conference held by The Lincoln Star at the School Administration Building.

The pert lady whose advice column appears daily in The Lincoln Star met with journalism students from Lincoln high schools and answered questions ranging from:

"How can a girl get a date?" (Don't be too sympathetic and act like a sister, and also let him know through others you're interested in him) to:

Parents
"Mother treats me like a baby, how can I gain her trust?" (Parents trust their children, they just believe their judgment is better and they try to protect their children.)

The young Lincolnites, commended by Abigail Van Buren as a "very bright group" and a "bunch of clean-looking teen-agers," also questioned how "Dear Abby" got training for her job.

"Experience with people, listening to their problems and reading about their problems," is the training one needs for writing advice columns, she answered.

Fears Aroused

London (P)—A woman motorist roused masculine fears in Britain by declaring that hypnotism helped her pass the government test for a driving license. There was some alarm over how she might fare in a licensed but unmesmerized state on Britain's overcrowded roads.

to behave," Miss Van Buren commented, "but sometimes they just need someone to push them. I'm not telling them how to behave, my column is just a reconfirmation of what they know is right."

She also announced she is now in the process of writing her second book and that she had decided this morning that its title will be "Dear Teen-ager."

Not a collection of letters from or to the young set, but a collection of essays about teen-age problems ranging from cars, phones, dates and clothes to parents, was the way Miss Van Buren described her new book.

The attentive teen-agers obviously were pleased with the answers and advice "Dear Abby" gave them.

Castro Doesn't Want Handouts

Tells Editors He's Seeking Trade And U.S. Tourists

Washington (P)—Fidel Castro spoke out strongly Friday against dictators and in favor of a free press.

Cuba's strong man and Prime Minister also said he doesn't want any handouts from the United States—just better trade relations and U.S. tourists seeking "a good time."

And he said a major goal of his is to ward off communism by wiping out poverty and hunger.

The heavy-bearded revolutionist spoke to the American Society of Newspaper Editors while friends and foes of his regime demonstrated, in an atmosphere of some tension, outside the hotel.

Castro spoke at considerable length, and in emotional tones, to the editors. He gave a strong pitch for the American tourist trade—saying visitors can either rest in com-

Rackets Kingpin Is Jailed

New York (UPI) — Vito Genovese, reputed American chief of the Mafia and wartime friend of Italian dictator Benito Mussolini, was sentenced to 15 years in prison Friday for operating a multimillion dollar international narcotics ring.

It was the first jail term for the wily, Sicilian-born Genovese, reputed successor to gambler Frank Costello as king of the nation's rackets. He also was fined $20,000. His $150,000 bail was revoked.

An underworld power for more than 30 years, the 61-year-old Genovese had managed to escape imprisonment previously although his arrest record included charges ranging from blackmarketing to murder.

Fourteen co-defendants, also convicted two weeks ago of narcotics conspiracy, received sentences in Federal Court ranging from 5 to 15 years in prison.

They were convicted of being members of a narcotics ring, headed by Genovese, which the government claimed had smuggled millions of dollars worth of narcotics into this country from Europe and Latin America.

7 Youths Wounded In Attack

San Antonio, Tex. (P)—Two gunmen fired shotgun blasts into a group of youths holding a birthday party on an open patio here Friday night, wounding 7 persons.

The youths, ranging in age from 17 to 22, were grouped around a barrel near a vacant lot about 8 p.m. when the shooting occurred.

The two men apparently walked up to the party, fired one shotgun blast apiece at close range then fled on foot, police said.

None of the wounded was able to give a reason for the shooting.

Rudy Castillo, 19, and Reynaldo De La Cruz, 21, were the most seriously hurt. Castillo was shot in the back and De La Cruz in the chest and throat.

All 7 were hospitalized.

State Dept. Labels British Press Timid

'High-Flying' Criticism Is Resented

... Berlin Air Routes

Washington (AP)—The State Department expressed dismay Friday at the timidity it said certain British newspapers express toward use of high-flying U.S. cargo planes on the air routes to Berlin in the face of Soviet objections.

It also said implications published in Britain that there is a split in the U.S. government on the matter are not correct.

U.S. officials said that in fact President Eisenhower personally approved the policy of using the C130 turboprop aircraft for supplying U.S. forces in West Berlin.

These planes operate most efficiently far above the 10,000-foot ceiling which the Soviets insist should limit Western flights in the corridors.

Two Such Flights

Two such flights have been made—one March 27 and one April 15. Soviet fighters buzzed the March 27 flight and shadowed the April 15 flight. Reports from London this week said British officials were worried about the possibility of a U.S.-Soviet incident which might cloud the prospect for a summit conference.

The State Department is obviously annoyed and worried by those British press reports which have treated the flights as a kind of provocation of the Soviet Union.

State Department press officer Lincoln White publicly commented on these reports Friday. And, privately some authorities here voiced concern that they might have been inspired by official sources in Britain.

Amplifying White's statement, State Department officials said they considered it preposterous to regard the maintenance of Western rights in the corridors and in Berlin as a provocation of the Soviet Union.

During afternoon business sessions, the newspaper officials heard a report on legislative affairs affecting their trade by the NPA committee who reviewed work opposing bills which might endanger advertising revenue or freedom of the press.

Among bills opposed by the group is the juvenile court constitutional enabling act, because of its "secrecy clauses," and legislation banning advertising by public utilities which was killed.

The committee also called the editors' attention to LB 705 which makes it mandatory to install voting machines in counties with cities of over 10,000 population, which would do away with the printing of election ballots.

Vet-Tax Bill Would Double State's Share

Gov. Ralph Brooks' proposed new bill to broaden veterans exemptions from the $3.50 head tax will also include a provision to double the state's share of head-tax revenue. The Star learned Friday.

The proposal would, in effect, amend provisions of LB47, already passed by the Legislature and signed into law by the governor.

The state's general fund would receive one-third of the revenue under Brooks' new proposal, not yet introduced in the Legislature, rather than the one-sixth provided by LB47.

Chief reason for the boost is that the state would lose some $430,000 annually by provisions of LB47 and repeal of poll taxes, according to estimates released by Brooks 3 weeks ago.

The governor's bill would split the revenue one-third to the state, one-third to school districts, one-sixth to municipalities and one sixth to counties.

LB47 splits one-sixth to the state, one sixth to counties, one-third to municipalities and one-third to schools.

Gov. Aronson Still Refuses To Visit Riot-Hit Prison

Helena, Mont. (UPI)—Gov. J. Hugo Aronson for the second day refused to go to Deer Lodge until "order has been restored" at the riot-ridden Montana state prison.

The governor issued a prepared statement in which he made it clear he will stay in Helena until all hostages are "released unharmed and the convicts are back in their cells."

"I have the fullest confidence in the ability of Warden Floyd Powell to handle this situation," he said.

Aronson's office said he was "in contact with the situation through several people" with whom he has carried on long-distance telephone conversations for nearly 24 hours.

Who's Getting Egg Profits? Benson Asked

Washington (AP)—Rep. Larry Brock (D-Neb) Friday asked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson to take a look at egg prices.

In a telegram to Benson, Brock said the "numerous" letters he has received from Nebraska poultry farmers who are receiving only 18 to 20 cents a dozen "has me greatly concerned."

He said freight costs for shipping Nebraska eggs to Washington are 4 cents a dozen and the eggs are selling in groceries here for 59 cents a dozen.

He asked Benson to provide a breakdown "on just who is getting the difference."

Farmers and poultrymen "are going bankrupt selling eggs at these prices," he said.

Bids Asked

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission asked bids to dig 3 tunnels for underground explosions.

The tunnels, 400 to 480 feet long, are expected to cost about $240,000. Bids will be opened May 19. Construction starts June 5 and ends by Aug. 2.

This would allow time to install necessary equipment by the end of the one-year suspension of nuclear tests ordered by President Eisenhower last Oct. 31.

The elementary principals, more than 200 of them, will continue their convention sessions Saturday with business sessions, a discussion of the role of the principal in the school guidance program, and a luncheon concluding the meeting.

Featured speaker Friday evening was the executive secretary of the National Department of Elementary School Principals who discussed "Who Is Your Principal?" before the state group.

Many school superintendents accompanied their school principals for the Friday evening sessions.

Bra-Stuffer Pleads Guilty After Shoplifting Arrest

A Pueblo, Colo., woman pleaded guilty Friday in County Court to petit larceny and vagrancy charges after she was arrested in a local grocery store with nearly $6 worth of merchandise hidden in her brassiere.

Police said a search of the woman, who gave her name as Nancy Smith and said she was 30 years of age revealed the following items hidden in her bra: two packages of boiled ham, a jar of preserves, a 20-yard roll of adhesive tape, a bottle of liquid shoe polish, a can of liquid soap, a package of wieners and an aspirin bottle.

Judge Herbert A. Ronin deferred sentencing the woman pending investigation of the case.

She also told police she had been living in Pentzer Park on No. 27th for an unspecified time since arriving in Lincoln, but police doubted her story. They said she was too clean-appearing to have been living outdoors, and she had given a local hotel as her address when booked in.

State Trucking Firms Intend Tax Value Appeal

A group of trucking firms served notice Friday of intent to appeal to the state Supreme Court the schedule of 1960 tax valuations on trucks set by the State Board of Equalization.

Sanitary Board Considers $121,000 Improvements

By Virgil Falloon
The Sanitary District board took under consideration a $121,000 improvement program during 1959 that was proposed Friday by District Engineer Ralph Marlette.

Board members made no specific comment on the proposed program, which was laid on the table by Chairman Henry J. Amen for further study.

Major projects proposed by Marlette are:

—Dead Man's Run channel, 48th to 56th, $16,000.

—Channel and drop structure, 48th to Salt Creek, $20,000.

—Antelope Creek conduit at the State Fairgrounds, $13,000.

—Salt Creek right-of-way, $10,000.

—Salt Creek erosion control, $22,000.

—General expenses, $40,000.

$465,000 On Hand

In a report to the board, Marlette said that as of March 1 there was a total of $465,000 in cash and bonds on hand in the general and special funds.

"I feel," he told the board, "that we should get started on some of the projects as soon as possible."

Also listed in the 1959 program was $32,000 for a dragline, which has already been purchased. It is presently operating on Dead Man's Run.

$4 Million Deferred

The district engineer also supplied the District with the following list of deferred projects, totaling over $4 million:

—Antelope Creek conduit, N to Vine, $2,000,000.

—Antelope Creek channel, south of 56th, $60,000.

—Dead Man's Run, golf course to O, $70,000.

—Salt Creek, new channel, Pioneers to Van Dorn, $100,000.

—Salt Creek erosion control, $40,000.

—Participation in Corps of Engineers' Salt-Wahoo watershed projects, no cost estimate.

Marlette also noted in his report that bridges or bridge replacements are needed over Antelope Creek at 56th, 48th, 38th and South, and over Dead Man's Run at 56th, Cotner, Vine, MoPac RR, and 66th.

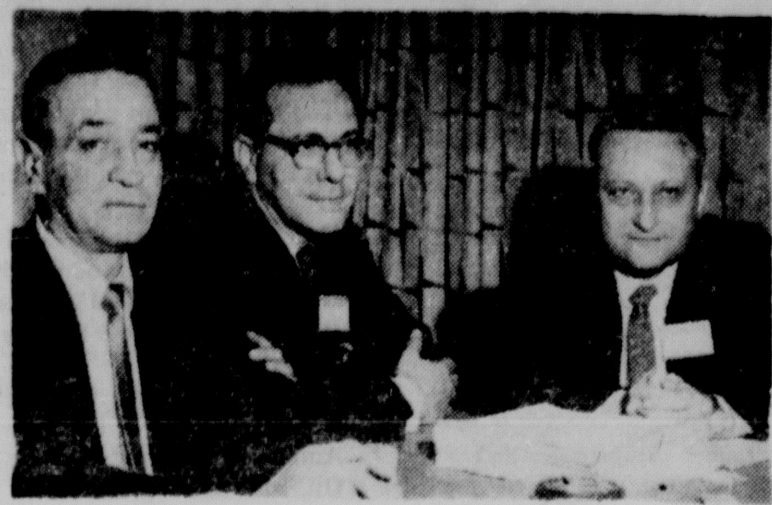

All board members were present: Max Harding, Hal Bauer, George Knight, D. L. Fenton, and Amen.

Self-Tattoos Latest Delinquency Symbol

By Nancy Ray

Are tattoos another symbol of the teenage delinquent along with the black leather jacket and the ducktail haircut?

This is one sociological study which was presented Friday to delegates of the Midwest Sociological Society holding its annual meeting in Lincoln.

Tattoos — more than 99% self-applied or applied by friends with needle and India ink — range from the symbolic "pachuco cross" — a teenage symbol — to meaningless doodlings indelibly stamped in the youngster's skin.

Prof. John H. Burma of Grinnell College, Grinnell, Ia., made a study of boys' and girls' training school inmates in Iowa and New Mexico and came up with some facts about this "self-tattooing" and its meanings.

The number of tattooed delinquents is impressive. The study showed one out of 6 Iowa male delinquents carried their mark, and the number jumped to 2 out of 3 of the delinquent boys interviewed in New Mexico, and one out of every 3 of the New Mexican girl delinquents checked.

Prestige
Why? The marks which brands the wearer as a member of a gang or identify him to police also is a mark which gives him prestige with his own age group.

It isn't until the teenager reaches the age when he wants employment that the tattoo is rejected by the youth, Burma explains. Then because of their indelible qualities, scars — often caused by self-inflicted cigarette burns — replace the tell-tale tattoos.

Girls interviewed in the New Mexico correctional institution had tattoo markings ranging from 2 to 25, Burma found. The median number per girl was 10 tattoos.

Election
Burma delivered his address at Friday afternoon sessions of the sociologists' meet, which included election of the following officers: Paul J. Campisi of St. Louis, president; Arnold Rose of University of Minnesota, vice president; Irwin Deutscher of Kansas City, secretary-treasurer, and George Vold, University of Minnesota, American Sociological Society representative.

Henry W. Riecken of the National Science Foundation spoke to the delegates Friday evening, predicting increased aid to the social sciences in future years.

Henry Amen Heads Board For 15th Year

Henry J. Amen, Sanitary District trustee since 1943, was elected Friday as board chairman for the 15th year.

George A. Knight was elected secretary and Max Harding was named labor committee chairman.

Knight has been acting chairman of the board since January because of the absence of Amen due to illness. Amen has served as chairman since January, 1944.

In other action, Amen told the board that inspection of the drainage work being done on Dead Man's Run showed "fine progress."

District Engineer Ralph Marlette said the dragline work on the channel through the University of Nebraska property should be finished this week.

The District laid over until next meeting any action on the proposed sanitary sewer for the area between 37th and 39th and extending from the College View outlet sewer, near LaSalle St., to Calvert.

Neil Withrow of 3801 Stockwell told the board a "serious health problem" has developed in this area because of lack of proper sewer facilities.

He said the city estimated the sewage improvement would cost some $15,000. However, district officials indicated the cost would be much higher.

The Role Of Leader

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

WASHINGTON — Unfortunately, Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was not able to present any formula for achieving the thing he asked for in an address on foreign policy to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. In plain and simple language, the Democratic senator called upon the American people to "grow up."

He was saying that the United States has not yet, in the thinking and attitude of its people, assumed the world responsibility which has been thrust upon it. In commenting upon the need for greater personal sacrifice, Sen. Fulbright partly explained the reason for this national shortcoming. The explanation is that there is still the belief, or at least the hope, that Americans can live just the kind of life they want to live and still maintain their sovereignty and independence.

The fact is, however, that this is not the case. As the Arkansas senator pointed out, there must be a critical looking at our national sense of values. We are called upon today to make historic decisions on the national front as they bear upon our international position.

Our position of world leadership, at least among the western world and among those nations which long for freedom, demands that we have a strong and vigorous nation ourselves. This means that we must have an educational system second to none, that our economy must be maintained at a high and productive level and that, militarily, we must be prepared to withstand any threat made against us.

At the same time, it is paramount that the United States recognize the significance of today's revolutions in all parts of the world. As Sen. Fulbright put it, it is to our advantage to do what we can to protect the people of Asia, Africa and Latin America who seek moral and political freedom from the "Communist scavengers."

Most Versatile Candidate

The crucial distractions currently in Washington have created a sort of a GOP vacuum in respect to 1960 with President Eisenhower laboring with State Department problems, Admiral Strauss trying to get past the Senate in order to take over the Department of Commerce, and so forth.

But the country can feel at ease. Mr. Richard Nixon is minding the presidency—never taking his eyes off it.

The vice president appeared this week before the Academy of Political Science in New York in an address that gave a picture of a new Nixon. He found himself able to approve of the Democrats for their forbearance in international policy; to laud the late Sen. Taft for old line Republicanism,

This does not mean that we should seek to dominate these people and impose upon them our own interpretation of freedom or our concept of a good life. On the other hand, it demands that we recognize our position as one of a protector and friend. We not only refuse to impose our own beliefs and philosophies upon another country, but we stand firm against such an imposition by anyone upon another.

In these things, the American people must be united. For it will take unity to achieve the sacrifice that is essential if this kind of an approach is to be implemented. Not just a few people can agree that military spending must have a priority, that teachers must receive better salaries or that prices and wages must be kept on a reasonable level.

This must be the decision and goal of all Americans. In a way, perhaps, this puts us at a disadvantage with Russia. As Sen. Fulbright pointed out, their monolithic society permits the easy concentration of all effort in one direction, be it right or wrong.

But the direction in which the United States must move is determined by millions of people, each of them exercising his own individual right to vote. Thus, the only thing this nation can and must depend upon is public recognition of the nation's responsibility and public dedication to the fulfillment of this responsibility. Leadership demands strength, courage and sacrifice. Nor will the world ever be without leadership. It will be assumed by those to whom it naturally falls in the course of events, or usurped by those whose lust for power can be satisfied in no other way.

At this point, world leadership has fallen naturally into the hands of the United States. But making every effort to secure it is Soviet Russia. It is squarely up to Americans to determine their own destiny by their willingness to attempt to understand what is needed and how such a need can best be met.

and endorse Law Professor Arthur Larson of Duke University for his apostolate of new Republicanism, praise the isolationists and, at the same time, advocate more economic aid for foreign countries. He supported the administration's uncompromising policy toward Russia and endorsed a more yielding course of referring Russian-U.S. problems to international law and a world court for decision.

This leads one to the conviction that the vice president is a man who can reach the top and the bottom of the stairs at the same instant. That might not be what the country needs in the next president, but it would certainly be a political phenomenon worth the price of admission.

Institutional Or Student Aid

A House education subcommittee gave clearance to a national educational aid bill calling for $4.4 billion, expendable in four years to give public schools grants equalling $25 per pupil as an underwriting measure for teachers salaries.

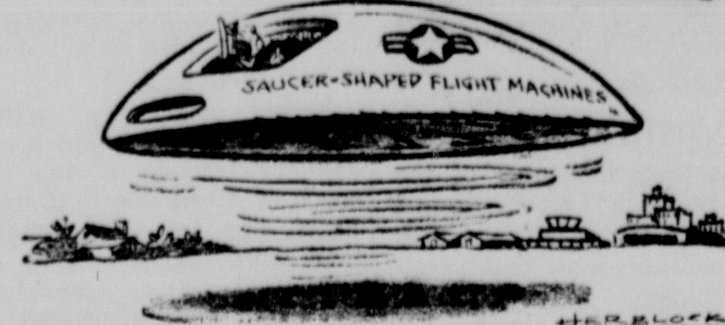

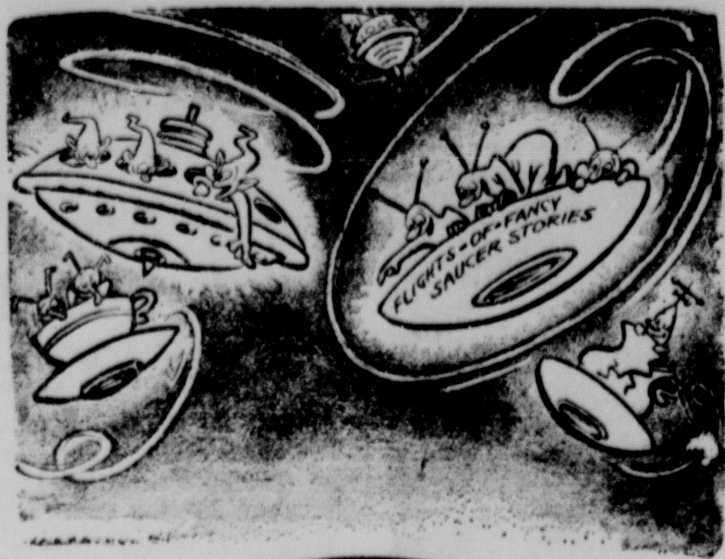

Clearing the first hurdle still leaves the bill at a considerable distance from passage. It must yet clear the main committee, be approved by the House, and passed by the Senate. But its progress denotes the rising fortunes of major federal aid.

While the measure is generous to teachers it lacks appeal because it approaches but one facet of the problem of upgraded education. A more balanced measure would provide something for facilities and something for students, too. It shares the weakness of the administration's current measure which is a greatly more modest action in aid, and similarly confines its interests to but one educational facet. It would provide vide $85 million a year over 25 years to help local districts pay the debt for new class room construction.

One grants that facilities and teaching power must be strengthened if education is strengthened. But it is curious that legislators shy away from the most important of all—the products of education—the students themselves.

The actual experience of the federal effort shows the immediate and beneficial results through student aid. The best example is the former GI bill of rights which filled the colleges with veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict and gave the country a fine product of well trained young minds which today are contributing greatly to national security. It is also significant that the GI program disproved that warnings that federal aid would mean federal control. There was no brain washing of students nor corruption of schools.

Cancer Toll On Key Men High

MIAMI — News that the inexorable spread of cancer had finally forced the resignation of John Foster Dulles as secretary of state came to Miami as the author of the cancer bill was eating lunch in a little restaurant.

"It was over 20 years ago that we introduced the bill creating the National Cancer Institute," said former Sen. Claude Pepper, now an attorney in Florida. "That was in 1937. The bill passed and carried an appropriation of $500,000. But although the Cancer Institute was established, it did not seem to have enough money to operate. So in 1946 Matt Neely and I introduced another bill appropriating $100,000,000 to be spent until used up, to fight cancer."

Pepper was then chairman of the Senate Labor and Education committee and had held important hearings on means of improving the nation's health. Neely who had been senator from West Virginia, was then serving in the House of Representatives, later came back to serve again in the Senate.

"Our bill never passed," recalled the former senator from Florida, "and since then senator after senator has died of cancer. Now John Foster Dulles is suffering tragically."

"Matt Neely himself died of the disease he tried to eradicate. Senator Taft had introduced a bill to appropriate $75,000,000 to fight cancer. It did not pass and he died of the disease he tried to stamp out. So did Senator Wherry of Nebraska. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut. The march of death continues.

"What I wanted to do," said Senator Pepper, "was to call together scientists from all over the world to fight cancer. Just as we got scientists from Italy, Hungary, Germany and Denmark to help devise the atom bomb, so we should use scientists to fight cancer. This is one field where we and Russia can heartily co-operate."

"The government has been appropriating an average of $20,000,000 a year in recent years to fight cancer, and Senator Magnuson of Washington has been a leader in carrying on the fight," said Senator Pepper, "but I wonder what would have happened had a more generous appropriation been voted earlier when we first urged it."

Note—Most consistent individual battler against cancer has been Walter Winchell, who almost singlehanded has raised over $5,000,000 through the Damon Runyon cancer fund.

John Foster Dulles had come to Florida full of high hopes and optimism. He felt sure he was on his way to recovery. His doctors had told him that because of his age they had been able to block the spread of the cancer cells; that in older people cancer does not spread so rapidly. So the secretary of state felt confident he could represent the United States at the foreign ministers conference. He even hoped to guide American policy in preparation for the summit conference. It was to rest and recuperate for this that he came to Florida.

Senators Ponder Powers Of Strauss

WASHINGTON — Senators opposed to the confirmation of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce will soon start to relate what has been said about what manner of man he is to what he will be enabled to do in his new post.

They have discovered that the little-advertised Commerce Department has enormous potential powers which an energetic and strong-willed secretary can use to veto or frustrate policy in many high places, including the State, Defense, Treasury, and Labor Departments. Some senators had forgotten this, so complete the recent eclipse of commerce has been in their hands.

It comes as no surprise to old-timers who knew it as a potent instrument in the hands of Herbert Hoover when he was seeking the Republican nomination for president in the mid-'20s. It is perhaps not without significance that the young Strauss was once Hoover's secretary and close to him during precisely that period when Hoover's maneuvers within the government had a brilliance he never achieved in the White House.

Strauss has already had to deny one published story that in his new job he has crossed swords with Douglas Dillon, under-secretary of state for economic affairs. This episode alerted at least one senator who admires Dillon's imaginative approach to foreign affairs as much as he deplores what he considers the rigidity Strauss displayed as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Commerce Department power lies in its interlocking connections with virtually every department of government. This enables the secretary to second-guess many important people if he opposes their policy. The State Department, with congressional approval, can expand foreign trade in theory, but the secretary of commerce signs the export licenses.

Commerce also has very natural connections with the most powerful American businesses and the men who direct them. Its advisory council is a blue-ribbon list; when it is directed by someone who knows the channels of government power, it can be a formidable force.

Senator Eugene McCarthy, Minnesota Democrat and a political scientist, contends that Strauss' record in government shows him as one who loves power and does not hesitate to use all that he has to further his aims.

"We don't always know how men will conduct themselves when they are in high office," McCarthy will tell the Senate Commerce Committee. "We know all about the Strauss clashes with Congress, his failures to keep it fully informed as required by law, his usurpation of powers Congress vested in the five commissioners, not the chairman."

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Revive Thy Work, O Lord

Revive Thy work, O Lord!
Thy mighty arm make bare;
Speak with the voice that wakes the dead,
And make Thy people hear.

Revive Thy work, O Lord!
Disturb this sleep of death;
Quicken the smould'ring embers now
By Thine Almighty breath.

Revive Thy work, O Lord!
Create soul-thirst for Thee;
And hung'ring for the bread of life,
Oh, may our spirits be!

Revive Thy work, O Lord!
Exalt Thy precious name;
And by the Holy Ghost, our love
For Thee and Thine inflame.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Here is a hymn which owes its existence to a Sunday school teacher.

Its author, Albert Midlane, used to say that it was his Sunday school teacher who inspired and encouraged him to write his first poems and thus directly influenced his whole life career.

Mr. Midlane, the youngest child in a large family, was born at Newport on the Isle of Wight in 1825. His parents began his religious instruction when he was a lad and in his early youth he joined the church. After that, he became a very active Christian disciple and though he was a busy layman he gave a good bit of time to religious work.

Remembering how the Sunday School had influenced his own life he became a Sunday School teacher so that he might give similar spiritual help to other youngsters. Between Sundays he wrote verses for his boys and girls and soon he was turning out hymns for children and grownups alike.

A Teacher Explains

Lincoln, Neb.

Through this column, I learn that "L. M." (Star Apr. 14) does not think the university uses its classrooms fully nor does he believe it needs more professors, based on the few hours they teach and the further fact that "large numbers" of them have outside employment. Thank heaven that each of us, including "L. M.," has a right to express his opinion!

Until I retired in 1956, I had been with the university since World War I. During those years I was concerned indirectly or directly with each of the elements of which "L. M." complains. Take the use of classrooms for undergraduate courses on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, or any afternoon. We had a requirement at one time that each department give a proportion of its classes Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings, and Friday afternoons. For years I was a member of a committee that sought to enforce this requirement.

Ivy Day, Farmers Fair, military parades, track meets, football games all depopulated Saturday classes. In the fall during the football season, it was practically impossible to hold classes on Saturday morning. Since World War II, so many students are married and need to work. It is much easier for them to find employment in the afternoon and on Saturday morning.

It was self-defeating for a department to set up a class at two, three or four o'clock in the afternoon and then have from three to six students register, when if it had been scheduled at 10:00 a.m., the number could easily have been from five to 10 times greater. You say, how come? That's easy. For in an elective system, it is possible in certain areas to get credit for almost any type of course. So if Johnnie doesn't like a course in Parkinson's Law that comes at 2:00 p.m., he can take a course in skin-diving at 11:00 a.m.

You can't blame the professors or the university's administration for this situation. It's just one of the things that happens in the educational and sociological times in which we live. If Mr. "L. M." has the answer, he might drop a note to the administration office.

Mr. "L. M." believes further that we don't need more teachers for the 7,000 students (his figure) we have now because we taught 10,000 after World War II with fewer teachers. Possibly we did. Just let me tell you a little secret. I was one of the "fewer teachers." What did I do? I taught 360 students divided into two sections at ten and eleven o'clock three mornings a week. When I walked out of that lecture room at noon, although I am considered sturdy I could hardly make the stairs to the first floor. I was just one example of what the "fewer teachers" were doing at that time. In addition there was all the laboratory work to supervise and the papers and examinations to correct, etc., in addition to the hours of preparation before classes.

As to the number of classes taught and the manner in which the average professor occupied his time, during Chancellor Burnett's administration—the Legislature having needed us about this same matter—I was given the task of making a survey of the teaching activities of the faculty. That survey showed that the faculty generally spent from 65 to 75 hours per week teaching classes, working out assignments, writing examinations, correcting papers and examinations, attending committee meetings, counselling students, etc.

Mr. "L. M." questions the outside employment of professors. True, a few do some outside consulting and advisory work. This may work two ways. It gives the professor actual practical experience and thereby may easily benefit his teaching. It, moreover, gives the firm with which he associates himself the benefit of expert counselling. The facts are that in many of the industrial areas, the best and most respected professors in business administration, engineering and the physical sciences, etc. have consulting connections.

Speed, Fines

Lincoln, Neb.

Speed, bah! I still maintain that if there were not so many very slow drivers on the roads, there would be fewer accidents, because then those of us who drive the safe speed limit would not be so likely to have an accident, as we would not have to pass the cars doing 25 miles an hour on a 65-mph highway.

Also, I don't think the present system of fines is the best in the world. It is all right for the money angle, but the wealthier people can well afford it. However, if they had to spend time in jail, I think they would think more about it.

DON MOELLER

Tossing Out Toys

North Loup, Neb.

An elderly husband and wife, farmers in Nebraska, have driven four cars in 42 years 210,000 miles without accident. Their grandson has owned three cars in three years, none insured. Two cars have been wrecked — as toys. He can pass a perfect physical test for a driver's license. Probably Grandpa and Grandma could not pass. The old people need transportation over the roads for which they have long paid taxes. If 50,000 cars must be ridden from the state's highways, let them be the playthings of the irresponsible juniors who are admittedly clever pilots.

Lincoln, Neb.

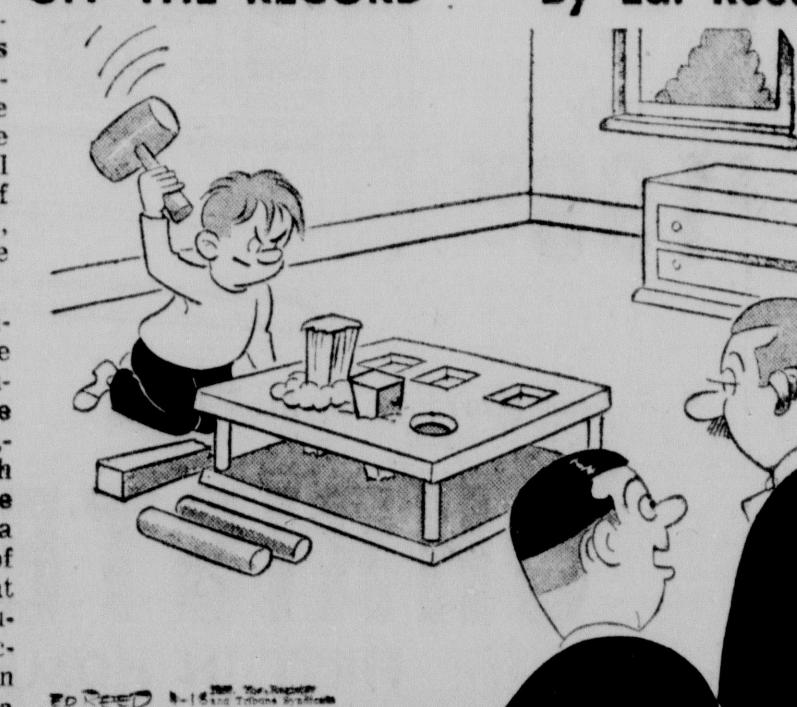

What a laugh! Herrington thinks there will be an increase in tangible and intangible valuations this year. Well, that is a safe bet. The Committee on Assessments guaranteed that. For one example, in 1958 the assistant assessor looked at my 1953 nine-foot refrigerator and assessed it at $95. This year the assessment committee decided my six-year-old refrigerator is worth $100. By 1961 my eight-year-old refrigerator will be back to the assessment of $95 that I paid on a five-year-old refrigerator in 1958.

I hope the assessment committee informs the refrigerator retailers on prices for antique refrigerators, as I would be delighted to sell at the assessment prices.

Governor Vetoes Bill Giving Attorney General Power To Help Staff Tax Commissioner's Office

By Betty Person
Gov. Ralph Brooks announced his veto of a third measure Friday when he returned to the Legislature LB-684 which would authorize the attorney general to name one or more assistant attorneys general to the office of the tax commissioner.

The action brought immediate disapproval from Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff who rose to object vigorously and moved to override the veto, but agreed, on the motion of Sen. John Aufenkamp of Julian, to hold the action until Monday.

Brooks objected to LB684 on the grounds the appointment power should be vested in the governor and tax commissioner rather than the attorney general.

Brooks said the office of Tax Commissioner is one appointed by the governor and that the attorneys serving that department should similarly be appointed by the head of that department and the governor.

No Help Wanted
The department now has two attorneys on its staff appointed by the tax commissioner, Brooks said, adding that "no reason is demonstrated for a discontinuance of that practice for, to all intents and purposes, that arrangement is working both efficiently and effectively."

Brooks said LB684 would

"merely create an additional division of authority within the department between the constitutional officers and no useful purpose can be observed."

Carpenter charged the veto was prompted by the governor's "dislike of the attorney general" and stems from a conflict that developed during the recent gubernatorial recount effort.

The Scottsbluff senator referred to this as an incident when Republican Attorney General C. S. Beck delivered an opinion which the Democrats opposed.

Carpenter said the constitution provides that the attorney general is the official to represent the state in court, but that Brooks "wants to appoint a man of his choice" to represent the state in tax matters with the result that the attorney general would "have no control over his actions."

Sen. Michael Russillo of Omaha joined Carpenter to favor overriding the veto, stating that the governor appeared to be asking the Legislature to do something which was "unconstitutional."

LB684 was passed 40-0 by the Legislature last week.

Globe-Democrat Strikers Planning To Start Paper

Jefferson City, Mo. (AP)—Striking American newspaper Guildsmen at the St. Louis Globe-Democrat filed incorporation papers to start a morning newspaper in St. Louis.

The move came at the state Capitol at the same time negotiators were meeting in St. Louis in an effort to end the strike now in its eighth week.

The incorporation papers were filed by two Globe reporters, Ray Vodica and Barney Wippold.

Wippold said the Guild intended to start within a week or 10 days. He said the paper would be published every morning except Sunday.

The strike began Feb. 21. At first the main issue was a pension plan. Now, a pension plan and job security are the thorns preventing settlement.

The proposed paper—which hasn't been named yet—would be put out by a publishing firm called the Morning Newspaper Publishing Co.

House Group To Hear R.G. On Soil Bill

Gov. Ralph Brooks will testify before the House Interior Committee in Washington April 27 in behalf of the Mid-State Reclamation District bill.

Brooks will tour the Mid-State district Saturday in preparation for his appearance before the committee, Administrative Assistant Robert Conrad said Friday.

The governor will fly to Kearney, meet with Mid-State officials and tour the district by car before returning to Kearney and the flight back to Lincoln.

Purpose of the trip will be to give Brooks a first-hand look at the project and information on the scope and operations of the district. Conrad will accompany the governor.

Democratic Rep. Don McGinley of Ogallala is a member of the House committee which will hear testimony from Brooks on HR3662 later this month.

Simmons Returns Brooks' Fire In Clash Over Labor Measures

By Don Walton
Sen. Ray Simmons of Fremont struck back at Gov. Ralph Brooks Friday in a continuing battle over the senator's bill banning secondary boycotts and the governor's state labor relations act.

Simmons' comments came in reply to Brooks' statement of Thursday which defended his bill, LB708, and contained a broad hint that the governor might veto LB560, the Simmons measure.

Teamsters Missed
The governor, Simmons said, "has apparently now discovered that his LB708 only outlaws secondary boycotts in a very limited degree and would not be at all effective to stop boycotts, particularly of the type used by the Teamsters Union in Nebraska."

"He says that the reason for the limited scope of the boycott provisions in his bill is because in too many respects the state legislatures are lacking in jurisdiction on account of federal pre-emption in that field."

"It is very difficult to understand the governor's reasoning."

Both LB560 and LB708 are intended to operate only in the areas where the states can legislate, Simmons pointed out.

Long Ride

La Havre, France (AP)—Mrs. Vera Nicolice, 40-year-old Yugoslav, faced the prospect of an indefinite stay on the French liner Liberte.

When the ship put in here from New York she was not allowed to land because she had no French and Italian transit visas to go to Yugoslavia. The Liberte sailed for New York with Mrs. Nicolice still in her cabin.

But port authorities here said her American entry permit had expired and expressed doubt that she could get one in New York.

Further, the Fremont legislator said, "The governor admits that boycotts can be outlawed when he includes a very weak anti-boycott clause in his bill."

Simmons noted that Brooks also referred to "anonymous" attorneys whose opinions of LB708 had been quoted by Simmons.

Who's Anonymous?

"If the governor had been in Nebraska and aware of what transpired in legislative debate on LB560, he would know that these attorneys were not 'anonymous' at all," Simmons said.

"I named them on the floor of the Legislature — Dave Swarr of Omaha and Max Harding of Lincoln. But when it comes to anonymity, it would be interesting to know who, in addition to Professor (Merton) Bernstein (of the University of Nebraska), has advised the governor in drawing LB708 and who is advising him legally regarding it."

Simmons also asked why Brooks kept his bill "a secret... until the moment LB-708 was introduced."

The governor's bill "would even take from employers the right to temporary restraining orders against certain types of violence and secondary boycotts, a right employers now have in Nebraska," Simmons said.

CITY TRAFFIC VIOLATORS MUST APPEAR IN PERSON

Persons receiving traffic tickets from Lincoln policemen will have to appear personally in Municipal Court to answer the charge unless an emergency prevents it, according to Judge John Jacobson.

Persons ticketed by the Safety Patrol, however, will still be permitted to pay their fines by mail or power of attorney in most cases.

Judge Jacobson said a recently-passed city ordinance makes it discretionary with the judge hearing city cases whether or not to accept guilty pleas by "waiver" or power of attorney, thus eliminating a court appearance for the violator.

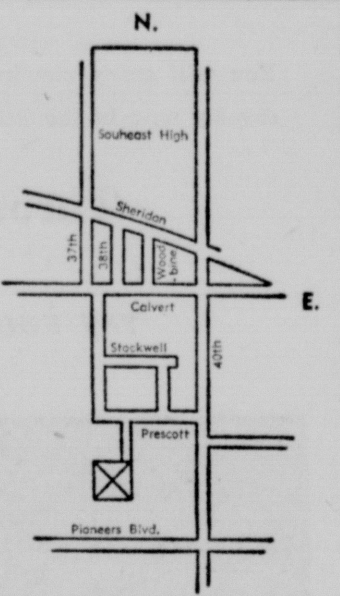

'Good Experience'
But Judge Jacobson said he believes the experience of going through court not only acts as a deterrent against a possible repeat appearance but also is worthwhile in that it shows a person how the traffic courts work.

All city parking tickets, however, may still be paid by waiver if paid within 15 days. Judge Richard O. Johnson, however, said he will continue to allow almost all Safety Patrol tickets to be paid by waiver or power of attorney. He noted that many such cases involve violators from out of town or out of state.

Teller Proposes Experimental Nuclear Blast 100 Million Miles In Space

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, father of the hydrogen bomb, proposed an experimental nuclear explosion 100 million miles out in space.

Teller, associate director of the University of California Radiation Laboratory at Berkeley, told the World Congress of Flight that such an explosion might shed important new light on basic facts of physics and relativity, with unprecedented accuracy.

Teller emphasized that the experiment had been suggested before, and was not his own idea.

He also declared such an explosion could be achieved without harmful effects. It would dwarf experiments of that nature already attempted—the explosion of an atomic blast 100 miles above Johnston Island in the Pacific and the 300-mile high Argus atomic discharge over the South Atlantic.

‘Watch Blast’

Teller said that by appropriate means “we could watch the explosion and particularly watch whether electromagnetic radiation of all kinds arrived simultaneously.”

He explained that the explosion would send out radiation over the entire spectrum, from X-rays and visible light through infra red to radar and radio waves. All theoretically travel at the speed of light, and since they would be emitted in a sharply defined time interval of a millionth of a second, they should reach earth at precisely the same time.

“Physics and relatively say that they will arrive at the same time, that there will be no deviation in the light rays,” Teller said.

and Space Administration (NASA) said rocket “firing schedules and payload details are still under study.”

‘Working Group’

Washington (UPI)—The Federal Space Agency announced the creation of “a working group” to conduct “major long-range scientific explorations of the moon’s surface and environment.”

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said rocket “firing schedules and payload details are still under study.”

Working groups to study satellite communication beacons and orbiting astronomical observatories were appointed earlier this month.

Work Together

The earth science section was told Friday that despite the fact that oil and water don’t mix, the University’s Geological Survey is doing all it can to bring the two together.

V. H. Dreeszen and H. M. DeGraw of the University staff said that water and oil as a team can double or even triple the amount of oil wealth in western Nebraska.

By injecting gas or water into producing formations, pressure can be maintained to keep the oil moving toward the wells, they said.

Although water injection is the cheapest method, not all of western Nebraska has sufficient ground water available for the process, the scientists said.

Unicam Devotes Day's Discussion To Brooks' Bingo Veto

Saturday, April 18, 1959 The Lincoln Star 7

By Betty Person
The prime topic of discussion among Nebraska lawmakers Friday was Governor Ralph Brooks' veto of the bingo bill passed last week by a 32-9 margin.
The governor's veto message on the bingo bill, LB86, was read to the lawmakers Friday morning. The message had been delivered and the

Nebraskans Show More Tax 'Honesty'

Initial reports to the tax commissioner's office Friday indicated Nebraskans are reporting considerably more property for taxation this year than last.
There has been speculation that stiffened tax laws adopted by the current Legislature would prompt more complete and thorough reporting of property values for tax purposes this year.
A field man's report from Cuming County showed a 52% increase in valuations on Class A intangibles (money, bank deposits, books accounts etc); a 127% increase in Class B intangibles (stocks, bonds and other intangibles not classified as Class A), and a 32% increase in personal tangible property valuations.
Land Excluded
The review came from field man H. W. Gustafson of the tax commissioner's office. Real estate values were not included.
The review covered the village of Bancroft but did not take in such cities as West Point, Beemer and Wisner.
In Bancroft, the Class A intangibles reported increased from $67,993 last year to $99,200 this year. Class B intangibles climbed from $45,510 to $104,910.
Overall figures covering Bancroft village and nine additional townships in the county showed these increases:
Class A intangibles—$1,021,951 last year, $1,554,427 this year.
Class B intangibles—$98,124 last year, $223,326 this year.
Tangible personal property—$3,196,585 last year, $4,217,345 this year.

bill returned to Clerk of the Legislature Hugo Srb late Thursday afternoon after the lawmakers had adjourned for the day.
When the veto message had been read to the Legislature, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff said, "With much effort I'll restrain myself this morning and ask that we withhold action on the bill until Monday."
Several senators jokingly urged him: "Don't try too hard."

Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha, principal introducer of the bingo bill, had earlier stated he would move Monday to override the governor's veto Monday. He was not present Friday.
It requires 26 votes to override a veto and Klaver has said he believed he would be able to get the required number of votes unless some senators deflected for partisan reasons.

There were some indications, however, that several lawmakers were weighing carefully whether the bingo veto should be overridden.
There was no doubt, however, about how Sen. William Skarda of Omaha felt about the matter.
He charged the governor "doesn't intend to respect the mandate of the people" in approving the bingo amendment last fall.
A co-introducer of the bingo bill, Skarda questioned why Brooks didn't "intercede when the bill was being drafted."
"He knew it was one of the hottest issues in the state. Why doesn't he just say he is against bingo?"
"Maybe he would like it if all the 43 senators just went home," Skarda said. "He's telling the 32 senators who voted for the bill that they don't know what they're doing."

"He's telling the attorney general and his staff they're wrong."
The attorney general recommended that local enforcement provisions be retained in the bill, rather than the state supervision Brooks wants.
"I wonder if anyone is right but the governor," Skarda said.

Editors Blast Justice Department For Opposing Less Secrecy

Washington (AP) — Executive agencies — particularly the Justice Department — were taken to task by newspaper editors for opposing legislation designed to prevent secrecy in government.

But one of the editors, in urging action by Congress to assure freedom of information, said Congress "must get into this battle with clean hands."

"Many people are suspicious you also are guilty of hiding public information," said Eugene S. Pulliam, managing editor of the Indianapolis News.

Illness prevented Pulliam from being present at a hearing of the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee, but he submitted to it a statement in which he referred to the current furor over nepotism in Congress.

"Clean Skirts"

In asking Congress members "to clean your skirts," he also cited the secrecy that cloaks senators' payrolls, the spending of public funds by congressional committees traveling abroad, and testimony taken in closed-door hearings.

Pulliam endorsed a bill to amend the Administrative Procedure Act to prevent federal officials from misusing it as authority for withholding information from the public.

So did James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, and other witnesses heard by the subcommittee. "I don't see how the need for it can be questioned," Pope said.

He declared that its "unassailable purpose" is to restate clearly the intent of "a law that has been grossly misinterpreted in the Executive Department."

The bill, introduced by Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo), the subcommittee chairman, would tighten up what he has called loose terms and phrases in the present law. Hennings was the only member present during most of the hearing.

The Justice Department has protested what it has described as the broad sweep of the bill, but Hennings contends the present language of the law gives secrecy-minded officials far too much latitude.

Pulliam said the Justice Department has been the most outspoken in its opposition to the measure, and Pope remarked that other federal agencies seem to have taken their cue from that department.

enough to look for the answer."

The vivacious Californian captivated some 370 Nebraska newspapermen and women attending a second-day luncheon of the scheduled 3-day Nebraska Press Assn. convention in Lincoln.

"I'm certainly no authority on human relations," she emphasizes, "I just try to use common horse-sense when someone writes to me for advice."

In real life, Mrs. Morton Phillips whose "Dear Abby" column is featured daily in The Lincoln Star, is a mother and housewife.

"My family is my career," she explains. "Writing is my hobby."

Her hobby skyrocketed to huge proportions after a national syndicate noted the cryptic advice she offered to San Francisco Chronicle readers in the first few weeks of her lovemorn column back in 1956.

Now she receives from 8-10,000 letters a week from troubled people, not only in the United States but also from other nations.

"People's problems are the same in the Fiji Islands as in Lincoln," she says.

In answer to those who accuse her of making up some of her own letters, Abby says, "It would take more genius than I possess to write some of the letters I receive."

Load For Load

Abby says giving advice is "very serious business." She explains, however, that when someone asks her a "loaded question, they'll get a loaded answer."

Abby's address followed a morning program that included a critique of Nebraska newspapers by Prof. George H. Phillips, head of the department of journalism at South Dakota State College, Brookings, S.D. and a film presentation by the Ainsworth Star-Journal.

Abby was sponsored by The Lincoln Star. Charles White of The Lincoln Star was master of ceremonies.

$8.5 Million Need Over R.G. Budget Seen

Bills still alive in the Legislature would require $8½ million in general fund and property tax money above and beyond the governor's budget recommendations, Budget Committee Chairman Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln informed the Unicameral Friday.

Included are 6 "special levy" bills involving $4 million, he noted.

Liebers said he has been advised that LB583 may be a "key" to the disposition of the special tax levy bills and obtained permission to have it debated as the first order of business Monday.

LB583 would increase the state institutional building levy from .75 to .85 mill and revise the distribution formula so as to give state aid to junior colleges for the first time.

11% to Junior Colleges

The junior colleges would receive 11% of the proceeds, and amounts going to other agencies such as the University of Nebraska, Board of Control, normal schools and state Capitol and grounds would be reduced.

The bill was introduced by Sens. Don Thompson of McCook, David D. Tew of Norfolk and Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth.

Junior colleges, locally supported, presently are located at Norfolk, McCook, Fairbury and Scottsbluff.

Sen. Liebers said action on LB583 will "clarify the air" on other special tax levy bills. The latter include special levies for the benefit of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture experiment stations, normal schools and state parks.

Curtis Pushing Industrial Use Of Ag Products

Washington (AP)—Two incentive plans designed to increase industrial uses of agricultural surpluses are being advanced by Sen. Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska.

He would authorize the Agriculture Department to enter into 5-year contracts to sell surpluses at a reduced price for industrial research, and would provide for a rapid tax writeoff of expenditures in construction of facilities for manufacturing or processing industrial items from surpluses.

Curtis said the tax incentive was effective in many instances to get plants built for national defense and should be used in the agricultural emergency.

Brooks Advocates Aerospace Education

Las Vegas, Nev. — "The modern school system has an obligation to encourage and direct its students to become fully aware of their aerospace environment and the many opportunities which it places on them as citizens of tomorrow," Gov. Ralph Brooks told the world forum of aerospace education leaders here.

"A full understanding of the aerospace age involves much more than the acquaintance with the new scientific knowledge, important as this may be," Brooks said.

"When studied in its largest proportions, the mastery of air and space indicates clearly the futility of war and the absolute necessity of nations learning to live together in harmony and in peace."

Brooks spoke to an audience of top-level military and civilian aviation leaders.

"What is needed," the governor said, "is an education's air command, with a clear-cut mission of identifying instructors of every level with their aerospace environment."

"Such a command need not become a new organization, rather, it might well be a dynamic plan of action within the organizations represented at this forum."

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

KIT

By KIT STUART
of Southeast High School
Congratulations are in store for many Southeast students—

Judy Coover will attend Girls State at the University of Nebraska in June. Susie Moffitt and Tom Cooper won the State Debating Championship. This made the third consecutive win for the state debaters and Judy Harrington won a scholarship to the University of Nebraska School of Journalism.

Gretchen Groth won the gold medal diving championship for sixteen years of age and over. She went to Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where the contest took place. Congrats to you all!

Also congratulations to the track team on their win over Omaha Westside, 76-71. The spring all-school play, "Mrs. McThing" by Mary Chase, will be presented in the Southeast auditorium, April 16, 17. It is a comic fantasy and a surprise is in store for all at the end of the play. See you all there.

Faculty Wives

The spring meeting of the Lincoln Public Schools Faculty Wives Club will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at Dawes School.

A program will be presented by students from Southeast, Lincoln and Northeast High Schools after which the group will elect new officers.

We Hear That

Word has been received in Lincoln of the birth of a son, Raymond Yano, on Tuesday, April 14, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ward of Oceanside, Calif. Mrs. Ward is the former Sumie Yano, daughter of Mrs. Tsurue Yano of Kanagawa, Japan. The baby's paternal grandparents of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Ward of Lincoln.

Home To Philippines

Next Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dymacek and their children, Terry and Judy, will leave Lincoln for San Francisco where on April 26 they will board the luxury liner, President Cleveland, bound for the Philippines.

Sounds like a delightful trip, but the story behind the story makes it even more exciting—

During the Spanish American War a young soldier was sent to the Philippines where he met and married a young lady of Filipino and Spanish descent. The couple had several children, one of whom, a daughter, came to the United States in 1948, upon the invitation of her grandmother, Mrs. Janie Bamer of Tobias, Neb. In 1950 the young visitor married Donald Dymacek of Crete, and the couple settled in Lincoln.

Thus, after 11 years, Mrs. Dymacek will be going home to Carraçal, Surigo, Mindanao, to be reunited with her mother, Mrs. Filomena Bamer, and her brothers and sisters. And Mrs. Bamer will have ample time during her daughter's five-month visit to get acquainted with her son-in-law and her grandchildren whom she has never met.

TOWN TALK

—The time has come to wrap up the weekend and send it into outer space—The package won't be too heavy since we already have mentioned much of the activity.

But we did discover that something new had been added to the Saturday calendar—It is a dinner this evening for which Mrs. George P. Abel will be hostess at her home when she honors James Ebel, president of the Centennial Executive committee.

The guest list will include the members of the committee and their wives, and the group will be composed, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Ebel, of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Haupt, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Wheaton Battey, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cedardahl, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston.

—The Lincoln Air Port was an exciting spot on Thursday evening when a west bound plane landed some interesting passengers—One of them, of course, was Mrs. Morton Phillips "Dear Abby," who arrived from San Francisco via Omaha.

Then a popular Lincoln foursome, Mr. and Mrs. Elery Hall Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson came down the ramp and put their feet on Lincoln soil for the first time in two months—Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Dobson have been traveling in Europe.

—And since we are speaking of people who are returning let's take a look at the list of all of those who will be arriving back on Sorority Row for Chi Omega's State Day which will be held at the chapter house.

Those who subscribed enthusiastically to the "Have Pin, We'll travel" theme include, Mrs. Donald Campbell, Mrs. D. William Dean, Mrs. John Englund, Mrs. Herbert Erickson, Mrs. Merl J. Gilliam, Mrs. Lester Johnson, Mrs. Stanford R. Nordgren, Miss Julie Seng, and Mrs. Diane Feaster Weller, all of Omaha; Miss Margaret Edwards, Mrs. Kenneth Pinkerton and Miss Joyce Young, Beatrice; Miss Charlotte Drislaus, Mrs. Lester A. Dear Abby . . .

Not Married to the Sisters Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is I married a man with too many sisters. I held a good position before I was married and didn't exactly come out of the hills, but my husband's sisters think they know everything and are very free with their advice. One tells me how to dress, another one tells me how to wear my hair and another tells me how to arrange my furniture. I have heard from all of them that I am not "the type" they expected their brother to marry. (What could they mean by this?) Is there any way I can be friendly with them without letting them run my life?

TOO MUCH ADVICE
DEAR TOO: Be friendly, agreeable and willing to listen to their advice—and then do exactly as you please.

DEAR ABBY: I am a housekeeper in a Catholic Rectory. I have always spoken of the kitchen there as "my" kitchen and when I speak to others I always refer to the parish as "my" parish. I was told by a friend that I should not refer to the kitchen as "my" kitchen or the parish as "my" parish. Am I right or wrong?

CRITICIZED
DEAR CRITICIZED: You certainly have a right to refer to the kitchen as yours, and those who merely belong to a parish refer to it as "my" parish. Your critic had to dig pretty deep to find something to criticize. Ignore it.

DEAR ABBY: Four years ago I married a widow. I bought a home, furnished it completely with new gas furnace, automatic washer, dryer, electric range, refrigerator and TV. I have to give her my check uncashed or she storms. On my day off I scrub and wash the floors and woodwork. I wash the Venetian blinds, vacuum rugs and polish furniture. I take care of the lawn and garden. I own a car, but she never lets me drive it. I carry my lunch and walk to work. I get $3 a week allowance for gum and cigarettes. You hear about rights for women. Are there no rights for men? I wish you could help me.

NO RIGHTS
DEAR NO: There are "rights" for men . . . but only for those who are man enough to demand them. A little less "wishbone" and a little more backbone.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem with my boyfriend. We go to the same school and he brings me home when school is out. I like him a lot but when we get home I have trouble getting him to leave. I'm afraid people will start talking about us if he keeps coming in and staying so long. Please tell me how to tell him to leave without making him mad.

WHAT TO SAY
DEAR WHAT: It isn't necessary to tell him to go—simply say, "I wish you could stay longer but I have so much to do that I must start now."

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been "losing" handkerchiefs at the rate of four a week. I have been finding lip stick on his collar lately so I put two and two together. He has been throwing away his handkerchiefs I am quite sure. He comes home right after work so he must be fooling around on his lunch hour. Is there any way I can catch him, or should I tell him I am wise? I have no children to keep our home together for.

NOBODY'S FOOL
DEAR NOBODY'S: Lay all your cards on the table, and ask him to do likewise. At least he'll know that he's married to an intelligent woman.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, enclose a self-addressed envelope.

went a song we used to sing in school. Nowadays, when folks get hungry, along toward noon, they start thinking about a Cornhusker Reuben—the kind of sandwich that makes music for the taste buds. The "Reuben" won the National Sandwich Sweepstakes in 1956, and has been a big favorite on the menus of all Schimmel food rooms since. Reuben's unique palate-personality comes from blending these ingredients: corned beef, swiss cheese, sauerkraut, 1000 Island dressing, served upon the famous Schimmel dark rye bread, grilled or plain, with potato chips and garlic pickle. It's a man's sandwich, for sure, but a ladies' man, too, is Reuben. Try one, next time you're near

BETHANY HEIGHTS

Heard that early in April Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fritz motored to Colorado. They spent four days in Denver, their former home, visiting friends.

Incidentally, Mr. and Mrs. Tidball have had a new address in Park Manor as of the latter part of March—namely 5545 Sumner.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. Hennessey Hit Wins For Hutch's Nine

Boston Gains 4-0 Triumph

Holdrege Grad May Be Chief

By Don Bryant
Hollywood, Fla. — Big Joe Hennessey is a good example of the type of boy that makes the annual trek south in hopes of advancing himself in organized baseball.

It's a rough grind for a youngster. Some improve and some fall by the wayside. Last year Hennessey broke into baseball as an outfielder with Holdrege of the Nebraska State League. He hit only .255 in 51 games, managing a mere 2 home runs.

This year he's making a solid effort for a job on the Lincoln club—which, for him, would be a jump from Class D to Class B.

3-2 Victory
The strapping centerfielder Friday afternoon drove in the winning run in the bottom of the 9th inning to give Chiefs' manager Ira Hutchinson's team a 3-2 victory over Duluth-Superior skipper George Noga's lineup.

It was the second day in a row Hennessey won a game for Hutchinson. His 3-run homer Thursday brought a 4-1 win.

"Joe is certainly a happy surprise to me," Hutchinson said after Friday's game. "He's hitting a great deal better than any of us expected and his play in centerfield has been good."

He is definitely making a strong bid for a spot on the Lincoln club and he might make it.

Credit Northey
If Hennessey does make the Chiefs' roster for the trip home, he can thank Ron Northey, former major league slugging star now serving as a scout and batting instructor for the Chicago White Sox.

Sox Stretch Tiger String

... 6-5 Loss Detroit's 6th
Chicago (AP)—Jim Rivera's pop double scored two runs in the 8th for a 6-5 Chicago victory which stretched winless Detroit's losing streak to 6 games Friday.

Rivera's winning blow settled a see-saw contest in which the White Sox took a 3-1 lead on rookie Norm Cash's 3-run homer and the Tigers came back with a two-run homer by Eddie Yost in the 5th and a none-on homer by Al Kaline in the 6th.

Chicago's second pitcher, Rudolfo Arias, gave up Detroit's 5th run in the 9th on singles by Harvey Kuenn and pinch-hitter Johnny Groth and an infield out, but he was credited with the victory.

Dick Donovan started, but quit in the 6th. The loser was reliever Ray Narleski, who took over at the start of the 8th. It was his 3rd setback against no victories. Frank Lary started and was replaced by Don Morgan in the 6th.

Kalime's leadoff homer, his second of the season, gave the Tigers a 4-3 lead in the top of the 6th. But in the bottom of the 6th, Chicago tied it when pinch-hitter Earl Torgeson singled Jim Landis across from second.

Cash's homer in the 3rd after Landis doubled and Sherm Lollar walked was the second of his major league career and his second off Detroit's Lary. He whacked a two-run homer off the Tiger right-hander in the first inning of a 5-3 Chicago victory at Detroit April 12.

Coach Bill Jennings said Friday he plans to introduce the first kickoffs and extra point tries of spring scrimmage Saturday. "We will run for the extra points—try for the two points," he said.

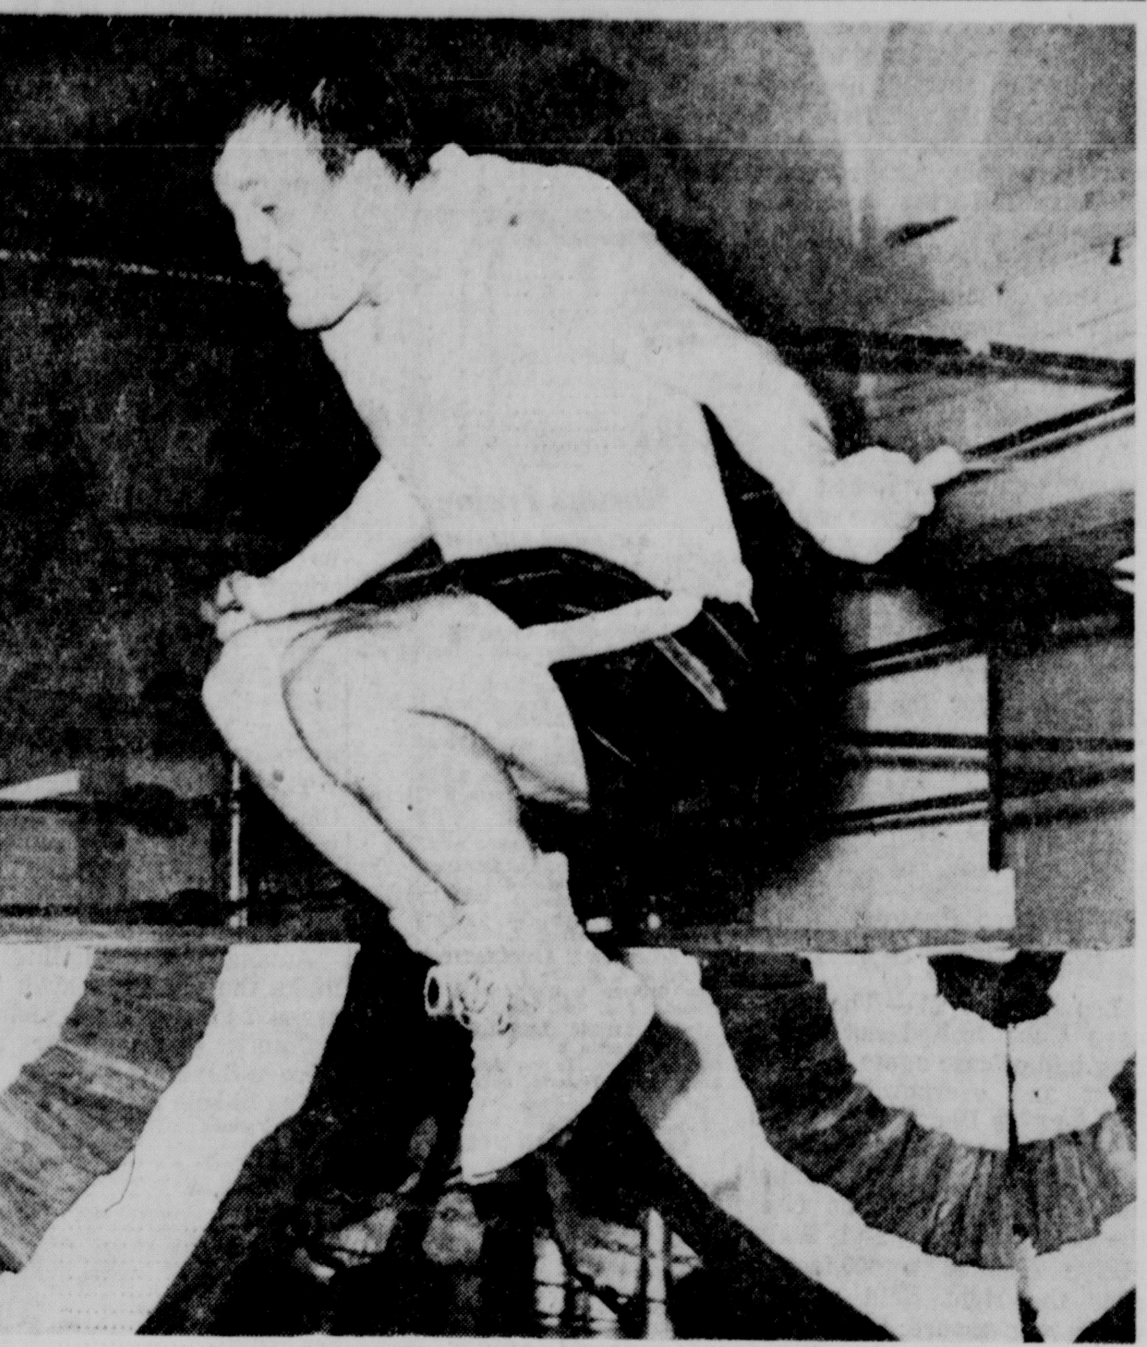

"Now that George Harshman isn't available, we will probably go for two points during the regular season and not take a chance on kicks," he said.

Good news from the Husker camp included word that Pat Clare and Carroll Zaruba are recovering quickly from knee strains. Both are expected to see action Saturday.

Jennings said that defensive play was progressing well during practice sessions. "Our defense is ahead of our offense," the NU mentor said.

Jennings commented that a halfback Pat Fisher of Omaha "has been sharp in practices. Pat, with some luck and more team depth, can make a real contribution to our club," he said.

Another of the hitting stars for the Hutchinsons Friday was Deacon Jones, who seems a cinch to be Lincoln's first baseman come opening day.

Smith's Errors Boost Indians

... Tribe Remains Unbeaten
Cleveland (AP)—Two errors by Kansas City 3rd baseman Hal Smith on one play allowed the Cleveland Indians to score a 9th-inning run that gave them a 4-3 victory over the Athletics here Friday night in the opener of a 3-game series.

With two outs, Smith fumbled Minnie Mino's ground-er and then threw wild to first base, allowing Carroll Hardy to score from second. Hardy had led off with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice by pitcher Dick Brodowski.

The victory, the 5th for the unbeaten Indians, went to Brodowski, who relieved starter Gary Bell in the 8th and retired the 6 men he faced.

The Athletics got all their runs on homers by Whitey Herzog, Roger Maris and Smith off Bell, who beat the A's in the season's opener at Kansas City last Friday.

The Indians broke on top in the second inning, when Vic Power hit his first home run of the year over the left field fence.

Kansas City took a 2-1 lead in the 4th on Herzog's leadoff homer over the centerfield fence and Maris' blast into the right field stands after two men were out.

Mino led off the last half of the 4th with a walk and went to 3rd on a single by Power after Rocky Colavito had struck out. Mino scored and Power went to second on a passed ball.

After two scoreless innings, Smith hit a home run over the left field fence in the 7th to put the A's in the lead. But the Indians tied the score again in the bottom of the 7th when Tom Gorman relieved Rip Coleman, the Athletics' starting pitcher, with the bases full and no outs and walked pinch hitter Hal Naragon to force in the tying run.

Johnson said he had not made application for the Lincoln post and had signed a contract to return to Minden where he has coached since 1952.

Nebraska's problematical baseball situation, accentuated by First Baseman-Pitcher Ken Ruisinger's injury, gets another test this afternoon when the Cornhuskers close out a 3-game set with Big 8 Conference rival Iowa State.

Sans Ruisinger, leading Coach Tony Sharpe's young team in both pitching and slugging, the Cornhuskers lacked sufficient offensive punch and defensive stamina to cope with their Cyclone rivals Friday. Final score in a long struggle was 8-3.

Dean Flock, Nebraska senior righthander, took the loss, although his 9-strikeout pitching in 7 innings neither began nor ended the Cornhuskers' downfall.

Flock, after setting down the side in the second via strikes, began tiring in the 5th when Iowa State's Larry Van Der Heyden stroked a missed ball over the left field barrier.

He served up 3 singles and a walk an inning later for two more Iowa State runs and was trailing 4-0 when relieved by Lincoln Junior Dick Welch in the 8th.

Neither Welch nor his successor, lanky Orvis Larsen, burned any trails while surrendering a pair of runs apiece in the late innings.

JOHNSON RUMORED LHS BOSS

Minden (AP)—Alden Johnson, Minden High School basketball coach, said Friday he knew nothing about reports he might succeed Lyle Weyand as basketball coach at Lincoln High.

'Hold It This Way, Chuck'
St. Louis star Stan Musial, right, gags things up on the set of a TV series which stars Chuck Connors, left, a former major league player himself. Musial journeyed to Hollywood before playing against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Boston (AP)—Boston righthander Tommy Brewer, recuperating from a bout with the virus, spun a stylish two-hit shut-out Friday for a 4-0 triumph over his longtime nemesis, the New York Yankees.

Brewer looked like anything but a sick man as he gained vengeance for his 3-2 loss to the Yankees in their season's opener though the New Yorkers began to tag him harder in the late stages.

Bob Turley, who beat Brewer on a two-hitter in that earlier meeting, was the loser as Boston centerfielder Gene Stephens accounted for two runs on a double and a single.

Throwing sinkers and sharp breaking curves off the fists, Brewer gained his 4th victory in 17 lifetime decisions against the Yanks.

Fine fielding support by Jackie Jensen and Stephens helped the tiring Brewer set down the last 15 men to face him.

Stephens lashed a double down the right field line for the first run off Turley just after Pete Runnels drove a two bagger to left. That came in the opening inning.

The Red Sox bunched their other 3 runs in the 5th at Turley's expense.

Don Buddin drew a leadoff walk and went to 3rd on Pete Runnels' single to right. Yankee manager Casey Stengel motioned right fielder Hank Bauer to move a few steps closer to the line, recalling Stephen's double but Gene lined a shot over first baseman Moose Skowron's head, and it was 2-0.

Two walks and Frank Malone's bases-loaded double play ball which brought home a tally preceded by a run-producing single to right by Gary Geiger.

The only safeties off Brewer were singles by Mickey Mantle in the 4th and Andy Carey in the 5th.

Jensen backed up against the low retaining wall in right field to haul in Yogi Berra's home run bid as New York's leadoff man in the 7th.

Pinchhitters Tony Kubek and Elston Howard gave Brewer anxious moments in the 8th. Stephens had to make a running catch of Kubek's sinking liner in center and Howard chased Jensen back near the wall in right. Brewer, who had 5 strikeouts, caught Hank Bauer looking to end the inning.

Norm Siebern, whose homer made the difference in Brewer's loss in New York, grounded meekly to first in the 9th. Runnels dug out Mantle's ground smash at the edge of the outfield grass behind first and threw him out, then Skowron fled to Jensen to wrap it up.

Turley surrendered all 9 Boston hits in his 7 innings.

Rain Delays Running Events In KU Relays

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—Rain knocked out the running events in the Kansas Relays for the first time in 34 years Friday and only one event, the broad jump, was completed in the field.

Heavy rain began falling at daybreak and it let up only briefly.

Relays director Bill Easton announced that preliminaries and final events scheduled for Friday will be held this morning, weather permitting, with finals in the afternoon.

Ernie Shelby, Kansas team captain, 3-time national AAU titlist and the 1958 NCAA kingpin, won the broad jump on a leap of 25 feet, 3/4 inches, just shy of the relays record of 25-4 1/2.

Navy Hopes To Tab Grid Coach Soon

Annapolis, Md. (AP)—Capt. Slade Cutter, director of athletics at the naval academy, said Friday that Navy hopes to come to a successor to resigned head football coach Eddie Erdelatz within the next week.

"We've had a number of applications, but no decision had been reached," Cutter said. "It will probably be sometime next week before we know anything definite."

The athletic boss declined to say how many applications had been received or to name any applicants. He said some were from other schools and that the present staff of assistant coaches also is still under consideration.

Erdelatz resigned April 8 for "personal reasons," terminating suddenly a 9-year tenure at Navy, more than twice that of any previous coach. It was known that there were differences between the coach and academy officials, and statements issued from each side indicated these were involved in the resignation.

His staff of assistants agreed to remain. They are Ernie Jorge, offensive line coach; Wayne Hardin, offensive backfield coach; Steve Bilchick, defensive backfield coach and chief scout; and Dick Duder, former All-American Navy end, who operates an Annapolis insurance business and coaches line defense during football season.

Cutter would give no indication whether any of these would have the edge over an outside applicant. He said that was a matter for the athletic association's executive committee to decide.

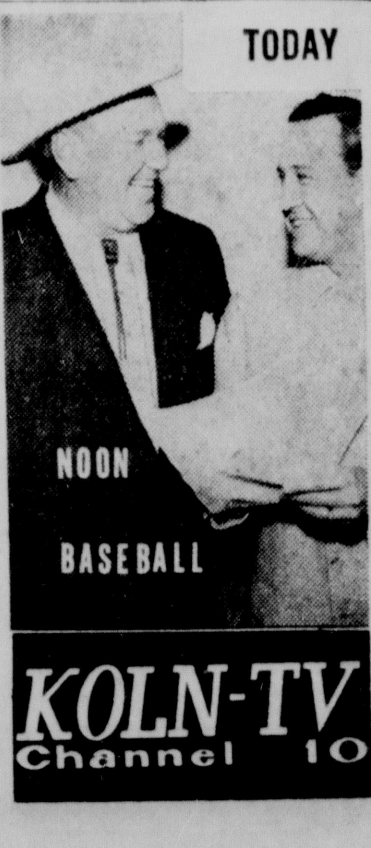

The 5-man committee, all Navy captains, is similar to the faculty athletic council at civilian schools. It is screening applications and will make a recommendation to Rear Adm. Charles L. Melson, academy superintendent, on the new coach.

Newt Copple Has Tough Mat Day

Stillwater, Okla. (AP)—Defending 147 1/2 pound champion Newt Copple of Lincoln had a rough day in the National AAU Wrestling Championships Friday, but remained in contention for the title.

Copple first had trouble taking a decision from Dick Gunner of San Diego Navy.

And in the night 4th round session, Copple was held to a draw by Shelby Wilson of the Cowboy Athletic Club. Wilson, however, was eliminated.

Cincinnati (P) — Philadelphia's Phils unlimbered a freethitting attack Friday night and with 3-hit pitching, trounced Cincinnati's Reds, 5-1.

Home runs by Harry Anderson and Willie Jones helped the Phils bunch all their runs in the first 3 innings.

Ray Sempach took over Philadelphia pitching chores in the 3rd inning for injured starter Ruben Gomez and had little trouble keeping the Reds under control. Gomez had wrenched his knee covering first base on an infield roller.

Veteran Hal Jeffcoat, last of 4 Redleg pitchers, got into big trouble in the last two innings, but managed to wiggle out.

A barrage of Phillie hitting greeted Redleg starter Brooks Lawrence. After two straight singles in the first inning, the Phils put one run across while the Reds were busy with a double play. Then came Anderson's homer.

Lawrence got through the second inning after Jones' leadoff homer. But after two straight singles in the 3rd, he was lifted for Tom Acker.

Before Acker could retire the side, two more Phil markers were in. He passed Harry Anderson on purpose and the former Redleg Wally Post walloped a two-run double.

Held to two hits in the first 4 innings, the Reds finally put a run together in the 5th on a walk, a sacrifice and Gus Bell's run-making single.

Mizell Allows Giants 4 Blows In 4-1 Win

San Francisco (P)—St. Louis lefthander Wilbur (Vinegar) Mizell whipped the San Francisco Giants 4-1 Friday night with a 4-hit pitching performance.

His teammates shelled the Giants' starting southpaw, Mike McCormick, from the mound in the first inning as the first 4 batters all hit safely and brought two runs across.

Catcher Hal Smith accounted for the 3rd run with a solo home, 365 feet over the fence down the left field foul line, the only hit in 5 innings off Stu Miller, who relieved McCormick in the first with none out.

The Cards scored in the 9th as Gino Cimolli singled home Don Basingame.

The Giants' run came on Orlando Cepeda's homer in the last inning.

A crowd of 19,945 in clear, nippy weather watched the opener of the 3-game series and the second victory of the season for the Cards who had dropped 3 straight to the Giants in St. Louis.

The victory was the season's first for the 6 foot 3 Mizell.

Montreal At Home Tonight

Can Wrap Up 4th Straight Title,

Montreal (P)—Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and his Montreal teammates return to home ice tonight, needing only one more victory over Toronto to clinch an unprecedented 4th straight Stanley Cup title.

Geoffrion, 28-year-old right winger, has emerged as the individual star of the current National Hockey League play-off. He scored the winning goal and set up two others in the Canadiens' 3-2 victory over the Maple Leafs Thursday night in Toronto.

This impressive one-man performance gave Montreal a 3-1 lead in the best-of-7 series and made Geoffrion the second highest individual scorer in Stanley Cup history.

The right winger's 3 points boosted his playoff total to 93, topped only by the 122 held by his sidelined teammate, Maurice (Rocket) Richard. Geoffrion also is second in Stanley Cup goals—49 to the fabulous Richard's 81.

Their backs to the wall, the Maple Leafs were not ready to concede the title to their rivals.

"Three weeks ago they told us we couldn't make the playoffs," said coach Punch Imlach. "We did. Then Boston was supposed to knock us off in the semifinals. They didn't. We're not beaten yet."

Imlach said he was proud of the team but unhappy over the result. "Our shooting—or lack of it—didn't help at all," he said.

Meanwhile, Montreal coach Toe Blake was playing it cagey. "If I knew we'd win tonight I would bet $10,000 and retire from coaching," he said. "But I must admit odds are on our side."

Fish Ruling Bypassed By Game Commission

The State Game Commission Friday declined to set up rules prohibiting or limiting fish snagging. At the March meeting of the commission a group of Kearney citizens had objected to snagging.

Principal snagging grounds are just below irrigation dams, a commission spokesman said. The action of the commission was based on a study of the situation made within the last month. The study showed, a commission source said, that snagging was not responsible for taking many fish and as such did not prove a menace to Nebraska fishing.

The snagging study will be continued throughout the year. Snagging is used mainly for catfish.

The commission also approved the purchase of a small tract of land from J. H. A. Peck of St. Francis, Kans., near the Rock Creek Fish Hatchery at Benklemen.

Also approved by the commission was a renewal of a lease on certain lands belonging to the city of Valentine used by the Valentine fish hatchery.

All the commissioners were present for the meeting. Their deliberations were disrupted for a time while they evacuated for the civil defense alert.

No date was set for the next meeting of the commission.

Good Population Gains Shown In State

Sharp Hikes In Lancaster, Douglas Figures Reported

Both Lancaster and Douglas counties made substantial population gains during the past two years, according to estimates compiled by Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer of the University of Nebraska Department of Business Research.

Population for Lancaster was estimated at 150,814 compared with 139,830 in 1956 and 119,742 in 1950, the last official census year.

For Douglas County population for 1958 was estimated at 326,615 as compared to 311,504 in 1956 and 281,020 in 1950.

In an earlier report from the U. S. Bureau of Census, Nebraska's 1958 population was estimated at 1,457,000 compared with 1,426,000 in 1956 and 1,325,510 in 1950.

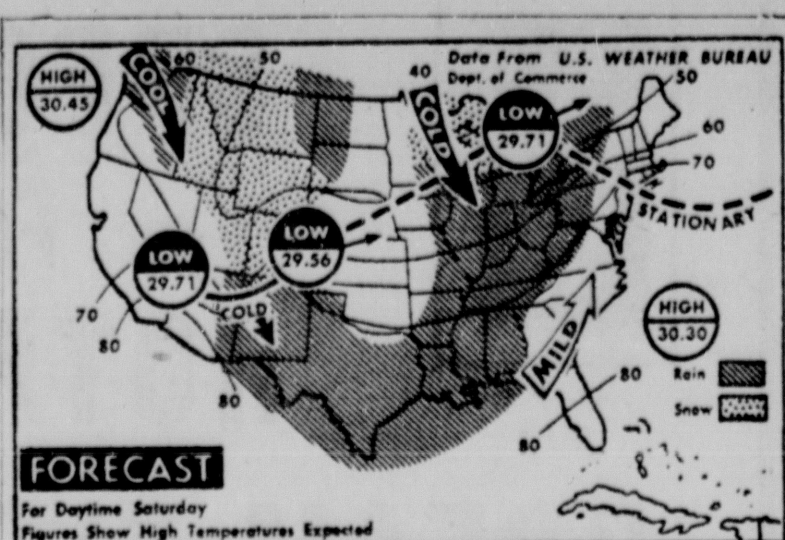

Rapidly developing oil regions in Cheyenne and Kimball Counties were credited with the "very fast" population growths there, Sarpy County also reported a big population hike.

Dr. Palmer said figures were based on school census of children 5 to 17 years old, the number of drivers licenses, the total vote at the election and a vital statistics series consisting of births, deaths, marriages and divorces.

County-by-county population figures for 1950, 1956 and 1958 show:

Fulbright Resents McCarthy Comparison

...Accusation Aimed At Sen. Goldwater In Luce Dispute

Washington (P)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) accused Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) of violating a Senate rule by comparing the conduct of Fulbright and Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) in the Clare Boothe Luce controversy with that of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Goldwater in a senate speech had criticized some questions Fulbright and Morse aimed at Mrs. Luce in a Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on her nomination to be ambassador to Brazil.

Fulbright, Foreign Relations Committee chairman, said that he resented Goldwater's statement that Fulbright and Morse engaged "in what I believe to be the same tactics they accused Sen. McCarthy of using."

Fulbright contended this was the same as saying that he and Morse had "engaged in unbecoming conduct" since the Senate had voted to condemn the conduct of McCarthy.

He said he believed that Goldwater had "gone beyond the bounds" of Senate rules which forbid one senator to accuse another of unworthy conduct.

Fulbright challenged vigorously Goldwater's contention that the questioning of Mrs. Luce had been "more in the nature of a political field day" than an attempt to check her qualifications to be an ambassador.

The critical quizzing had swirled about a political campaign speech by Mrs. Luce in 1944 in which she charged that President Franklin D. Roosevelt "lied us into war."

Fulbright said that questioning of Mrs. Luce about this was "to the point of her judgment and objectivity."

"Temperateness and good taste are relevant to the qualifications of an ambassador," he continued.

PRESIDENT TALKS BY PHONE WITH DULLES

Augusta, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower conferred with resigning Secretary of State Dulles by telephone again Friday, presumably on the matter of a successor, but there was no indication when the choice will be announced.

Administration and congressional sources predicted flatly that the job will go to Acting Secretary Christian A. Herter, but the White House steadfastly refused to discuss Herter or other possible candidates.

In Washington, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen told reporters he had been assured that Herter would be nominated and that the announcement may be made Saturday.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty reacted to the statement by Dirksen by saying, "I know of no one in the White House who has given anyone any assurance on anything."

Prior to an afternoon round of golf, the President:

—Sent congress a supplemental appropriations request of $500,000 to provide food, lodging and transportation for participants in the 3rd Pan-American games starting Aug. 27 in Chicago.

—Nominated Rosel H. Hyde for another 7-year term as a member of the Federal Communications Commission. Hyde, a Republican, has been an FCC member since 1946.

—Sent to the Senate for confirmation a number of nominations including 102 new postmasters.

Hagerty said there were no plans for Eisenhower to see Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro while Castro is in Washington. The President plans to return to Washington Monday.

Stocks Rally For New Peak

New York (AP) — The stock market Friday surged to a new peak for the second straight day, once again under the leadership of American Telephone.

Another $1,900,000,000 was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

Key stocks throughout the list kept final gains ranging from fractions to more than 2 points.

AT&T had a net gain of 3 1/2 when it closed at 26 1/2 after touching 26 3/4. Investors were still climbing aboard now that the 3-for-1 stock split "when issued" shares began to trade.

The stock continued to rise, reaching a high of 26 3/4, closing at 26 1/2, a net gain of 1 1/2 over Thursday when trading in these items began.

Once again, high quality stocks provided the leadership. The advance was a broad one, taking in steel, oil, air-craft, drugs, building materials and electrical equipment.

Rails continued their rally but final trading and small minus signs appeared. Copper was down 1/2, but talk continued in Washington about how much stock copper would be released.

The AP 100-stock average rose $1.50 to a record of $227.50, matching Thursday's advance. The industrial rose 32.10 to an all-time high, the rails rose 40 cents and the utilities rose 90 cents to a 1959 high.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.48 to a record 624.96.

Of 1,233 issues traded, 544 advanced and 474 declined. There were 102 new highs for the year and 20 new lows.

Volume expanded to 7,000,000 shares, the highest since March 19 when 7,400,000 shares were traded.

Twelve of the 15 most active stocks, 2 fell and 1 was unchanged. Corporate bonds closed steady on balance.

U.S. government bonds declined in light trading.

Bond sales totaled $745,000 par value.

Write-In Candidate Pat Boyles Officially Enters Lincoln Mayor Race

By Virgil Falloon

Bartlett E. (Pat) Boyles officially entered the May 5 race for mayor against incumbent Bennett S. Martin in formally accepting Friday the nomination that resulted from the official count of 1,607 write-in votes.

Boyles signed the nomination acceptance before Election Commissioner Anna M. Evans following announcement of the official canvass results.

Officially, Martin received 5,759 as the unopposed nomination candidate on the April 5 primary ballot. Boyles' write-in count was 1,607, or approximately 132 less than the unofficial tabulation election night.

The election commissioner said "this difference is due to technicalities prescribed by law which changed the total number of votes shown on the unofficial returns."

In addition to the official write-in tabulations for three other candidates for mayor, the canvass recorded 163 different names written in for the office.

In addition to names of prominent persons, others included such as "Anyonelse," "Huckleberry Hound," "Andy Gump" and "Yogi Bear."

The "scattered" write-in vote totaled 492.

The other officially-tabulated write-in vote was for Chris Kuhner, 210; Edwin Hart, 41; R. H. Walters, 102; and Willard Davidson, 101. They were avowed write-in candidates.

Although Boyles "officially" entered the race Friday, both he and Martin started early this week on "aggressive" campaigns for the leading city office.

The Boyles campaign committee chairmen and headquarters at 230 No. 12th were announced at a kickoff rally attended by some 125 persons.

The Martin camp announced a committee chairman and treasurer in a released statement. Announced Friday was campaign headquarters at 1228 M.

The nominated Council candidates (3 to be elected) are Del Tyrrell; Pat Ash, Helen Boosalis, Leon Donley, Kenneth Lewis, and C. O. Blanchard.

Robert Phillips and George X. Smith were nominated for Airport Authority with one to be elected.

School Board

School Board candidates, with two to be elected, are Emerson Jones, I. J. Devoe, J. Arthur Danielson, and Dr. Ben J. James.

Charles Stuart and Joe R. Seacrest, as a write-in candidate, were nominated for Wyuka Cemetery trustee, but there will be no general election for the post. An emergency bill providing for the appointment rather than election of Wyuka trustees has been signed into state law.

Draft Chief Hershey Says 'Dependability' Slighted

By Don Walton

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey suggested Friday that dependability, "most important but not measurable," is being too much ignored in selection of men for service in the armed forces.

The national director of Selective Service said "we must not be content to take men on the basis of what science can measure and ignore what it cannot."

Top Men Outside

"We're simply not getting the best people we should," the general told newsmen in a 75-minute session at the Statehouse.

Hershey is in Nebraska to attend a National Guard conference in Omaha. He addressed the Legislature briefly Friday morning.

Questioned about U.S. preparedness, Hershey said he would personally like to see "a great many more" men placed in the ready reserve.

Selective Service, he noted, aids more in keeping the armed services at strength by "encouraging people to enlist" than it does through actual induction.

Channeling of men into field of service was also listed by Hershey as a Selective Service objective.

Expansive Ability

His agency, the general said, must be flexible to the degree that it can provide anywhere from 5,000 to 300,000 men in a month's time.

Selective Service's mission has changed with the times, Hershey pointed out.

He termed the greatest change "mongrelization of the armed forces." It's a matter of "rearranging manpower," Hershey said.

Thus, some men must be channeled into scientific and engineering fields in the best interests of national defense, the general noted.

"Some people say a physics teacher didn't serve," Hershey said. "But, did he?"

All told, however, statistics show that 7 out of every 10 men now 26 years old have been in the armed forces, he said.

Hershey said he was "far from satisfied" with the physical condition of inductees. However, he pointed out, standards are now considerably stricter than they were in the past.

The general paid tribute to Nebraska state headquarters of Selective Service for its "fine operation."

Russia Ranks 6th In Foreign Trade

Washington (AP) — The Commerce Department said it has gathered from official Soviet sources detailed statistics on Russia's foreign trade. The figures are the first of their kind to be made public since 1938.

The department published a special report which showed Russia now ranks in volume as the 6th largest trading nation. The largest, in order, are the United States, the United Kingdom, West Germany, Canada and France.
